

REGIONAL Z-HOPE PROJECT

Meeting the Basic Needs – For the Spiritually Challenged

Overview

Thirty-five percent of adults 65 and over will spend time in a Nursing Home facility during their lifetime. 74% of the residents are women. Nursing Homes are designed to provide food, shelter, and medical care as well as social, religious, creative and intellectual activities. The level of care provided by a nursing home depends on the patient's medical needs. Like all healthcare facilities, nursing homes struggle to balance the need to control cost with the need to provide the best possible care. The Guardian Care Nursing / Convalescent Center has provided quality medical care to minorities in the Orlando community since 1958.
